

DOCUPICKS

Discover the best documentaries on the web.

Docupicks is for documentary lovers. The database contains tomatometer scores, youtube trailers and streaming sources for the top documentary films/series listed on IMDB.

Currently there are approx 200 movies in the database.

As a documentary lover, I want to find top rated documentaries so I don't waste hours accidentally watch trash tv.

Users have the ability to sort through a list of documentary films and series by filtering through titles, tomatometer score, category, or streaming source (Youtube, Netflix, Hulu, Amazon Prime).

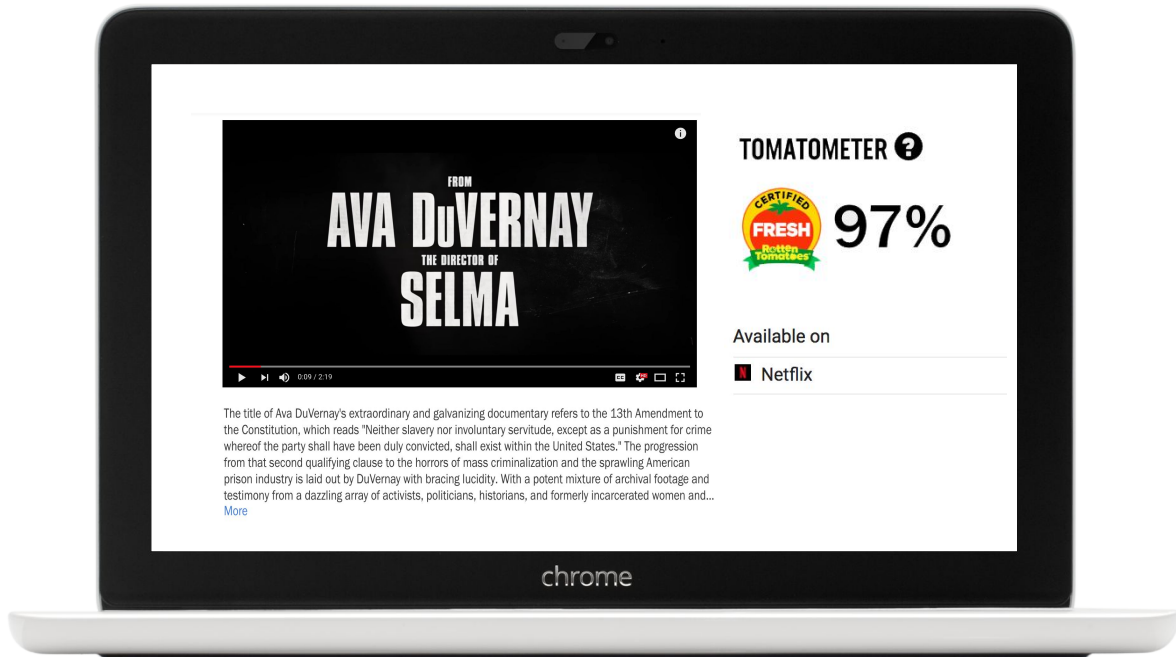

As a documentary lover, I want to bookmark content to watch later and provide feedback to the community about films I've already watched.

Once the user clicks through to a movie/series page, they will see the official Youtube trailer, description of the film, and all sources where the content can be watched.

From here the user will also have the ability to save the film to their “Watch Later list” or provide a review.
